NOTES AND COMMENTS.

THE TRANSVAAL.

The ominous words uttered by Mr. Chamberlain at Birmingham, as reported in the Reuter's telegram which we publish to-day, can, we think, leave little doubt in the minds of the public as to the outcome of the Transvaal crisis. Mr. Chamberlain has, throughout the whole of the negotiations, adopted a very strong attitude, evidently determined to concede nothing and be content with nothing short of a full compliance with British demands. In this attitude he has been supported by the English press, with the exception of the Daily Chronicle, which has accused him of attempting to force a war upon us. President Kruger has certainly not attempted to make matters less threatening by a policy of conciliation. He has apparently been striving to gain time by proffering small concessions, the inadequacy of which make their acceptance impossible besides increasing the bad feeling against the Transvaal amongst the Uitlanders and so bringing the general state of discontent amongst them to a head.

A TOUGH FIGHT.

It was inevitable, and we fail to see how it is to be averted while Mr. Chamberlain and President Kruger both remain firm, that Britain will have a war on hand which will require careful handling. It will be somewhat in the nature of an experiment, too, as it will be the first war in which we have employed our Indian soldiers against a white foe and, as we shall have to see how the new system of fighting in open order, necessitated by the great advances made in modern weapons, works out in practice. We shall see machine guns employed against weapons of a like nature and this will mean many practical lessons being taught (and learnt). It will be no old-fashioned hand-to-hand fight, but one conducted with all the latest scientific aids to warfare and as such will be regarded by the Powers of Europe as a huge experiment to test the efficiency of these modern death-dealing machines.

SHOOTING.

It must not be forgotten that the majority of the Boers against whom our troops will have to operate are born sportsmen, trained to the use of the rifle from their cradles and not trained at a fixed target, but at a living moving object. The recent operations in the Hinterland have not shown that our Indian troops, as represented by the Hongkong Regiment, are remarkable marksmen, else why the apparent lack of casualties amongst the Chinese. The report of Lieutenant Colonel The O'Gorman, as published in the Blue Book, refers to the few Chinese either found dead or seen to fall from the effect of the fire of the Pathans, the writer of the report stating that a range of six-hundred yards is too great for firing to have much effect at a moving target. We presume that in the Transvaal conditions will be much the same as in the New Territory, it will be a case of independent firing at a long range, and in such a case superior marksmanship will be bound to tell. Another point in favour of the Boers as opposed to our Indian troops is their well-known phlegmatic nature. They are not an excitable people and will in all probability fire as coolly and surely as if at practice. Can Indian troops be depended upon to do the same?

A HISTORICAL DESPATCH.

As was to be anticipated, Sir Henry BLAKE's despatch to the Secretary of State on the Hinterland disturbances is most interesting reading, though it is of course stale news in so far as the operations in the new territory are concerned. The account of His Excellency's interview with the Viceroy of Canton, however, has not previously been made public and it certainly serves to show the craftiness of the Viceroy and fully endorses public opinion in Hongkong as to the anti-foreign leanings of that gentleman. That he was fully conversant with the intention of the inhabitants of the leased area to resist the British occupation, we do not think there can be any reasonable doubt and his attempt to repudiate the convention is also worthy of note. The Viceroy's despatch of the 10th April contains the following significant paragraph, which evidently shows that he had made up his mind to ignore the British:—

"Yesterday in a telegram (marked Yen) from the Tchang-li Yamen it was stated that a despatch had been received from the British Minister to the effect that the Chinese Customs could not be allowed to remain within the New Territory. Thus the agreement made between Wang Wei-yuan and Mr. Lockhart and the statements of the Governor of Hongkong made at the interview of April 2, are insufficient as proof, and we will cease to discuss the proposition to take over the territory on the 17th."

I beg you to at once inform the Governor of Hongkong that it will be needless for him to proceed to Kowloon on the 17th.

OMISSIONS.

Beyond the narration of His Excellency's visit to Canton and the correspondence with the Hon. J. H. STUART LOCKHART, the Blue Book tells us nothing new. In fact it appears to be a censored account of the occurrences, for we find that some incidents have been entirely omitted. There is no mention made of the second flag-hoisting outside Kowloon City, but of course this may have been a private affair and so not considered of sufficient importance to be worthy of notice in despatches. On the other hand it must be admitted that this ceremony, although not partaking of the nature of a public function and of which no notice was given to the public, was the occasion of a deal of comment in the Colony, some of which comment was not of a particularly favourable character, the wisdom of the step being criticized on the ground that the Chinese might entertain the idea that Kowloon was chosen as the scene of the function owing to the unsettled state of affairs at Taipeih. There is also no mention made of the part played by the Volunteers in patrolling the approaches to the European quarter of Kowloon. Considering that it was deemed necessary to place warships on either side of the Peninsula with their searchlights playing upon the paths leading from the hills it is beyond doubt that the authorities considered the matter to be serious. We know now that there was no occasion for this apparent panic, but this was certainly not known to the Volunteers at the time and they are fully entitled to praise for the manner in which they turned out at so short a notice.

TELEGRAMS.

REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.

ITALY AND CHINA.

LONDON, August 27th.

A semi-official note from Rome says that despite the intention of the Government to keep the negotiations with China on peaceful and commercial lines, complication may arise if China meets the moderate demands of Italy with persistent refusals.

GREAT BRITAIN AND THE TRANSVAAL.

Mr. Chamberlain, speaking at Birmingham, said he regretted no progress had been made in the negotiations with the Transvaal and the crisis was not passed. Great Britain had exhibited patience, unparalleled in relations between a paramount Power and a subordinate State. The issues of peace and war were in the hands of President Kruger and, if further delay continued, the Government would not hold itself limited by what it had already offered, but would secure conditions finally establishing Great Britain's paramount power in South Africa.

There is much excitement at Delagoa Bay and the authorities are holding troops in readiness in apprehension of a Boer raid. Several men, suspected of being Boer emissaries, have been arrested.

RUSSIA, JAPAN AND CHINA.

AN ALLEGED CANARD.

TOKYO, August 17th.

On reading the Reuter's dispatch that the Russian Minister at Peking had made a strong protest against an alliance between Japan and China, the Foreign Office in Tokyo immediately directed Mr. Yano, the Japanese Minister to China, to investigate the matter, and report whether the London dispatch was true or not. A reply has now been received from Mr. Yano, definitely stating that the news published by Reuter was a mere canard.

THE TYPHOON IN KYUSHU.

GREAT DAMAGE AND LOSS OF LIFE.

ALMOST TWO THOUSAND HOUSES BLOWN DOWN.

TOKYO, August 17th.

A telegram from the Governor of Kagoshima, dated the 16th inst., states that further investigations so far made show that during the recent storm 14 people were killed in the city of Kagoshima and 52 others injured, while 800 houses collapsed and 867 were badly damaged. Fifty-two boats were wrecked. In the rural districts 33 people were killed and 11 injured, while 1,143 houses collapsed and 395 were badly damaged. Forty-five boats were wrecked and carried away by the waves. The houses that suffered more or less damage are innumerable. Fire commenced in two places as the houses collapsed, but did not spread.

A telegram from the Governor of Kumamoto reports a heavy gale on the 15th. Fourteen dwelling houses and sheds were demolished, 3 people were injured, 5 boats were wrecked, one man was drowned and three were missing. It is feared the crops have suffered some damage.

KUMAMOTO, August 17th.

There was heavy downpour of rain following the storm of the 15th inst. No damage has been done to the rice crop, but the farmers are much concerned at the extraordinary weather experienced for the time of year.

SUSPECTED CASE OF PLAGUE.

NAGASAKI, August 17th.

Two of the passengers of the Fukushima Maru, which recently arrived from Formosa, showed symptoms of plague, and the steamer has been ordered into quarantine in consequence.

DYSENTERY IN YAMAGUCHI.

YAMAGUCHI, August 17th.

Dysentery is raging in this prefecture, 238 cases being already reported.

FEARS OF GENERAL TRADE DEPRESSION.

LONDON, August 17th.

Fears are beginning to be expressed that a general depression in trade is likely to show itself before long. M. Dervies, the great Russian millionaire, has suspended payment. In Egypt there are indications that the Nile will not reach its usual level and in India the crop prospects are very unsatisfactory. The name of M. Dervies is well known in Russia. His fortune was originally made in railway contracting.—(Ed. A. C.)

THE JAPANESE IN CANADA.

DEFIANT ATTITUDE OF BRITISH COLUMBIA.

TOKYO, August 18th.

According to information received by the Government, the people in British Columbia are very indignant at the vetoing of the Bill to prevent the immigration of Japanese. It is believed that British Columbia will attempt to enforce the provisions of the Bill notwithstanding the decision rendered.

THE RECENT TYPHOON.

MIVASAKI, August 18th.

Investigations made up to this date regarding the damage done by the recent storm show that 118 houses collapsed, 6 people were killed by falling debris and 5 persons injured. A heavy thunderstorm was experienced this morning.

KAGOSHIMA, August 18th.

The recent storm in this prefecture was the most destructive ever experienced here. Governor Kano has issued a proclamation cautioning rice merchants and timber dealers not to take advantage of the disaster and raise prices.

BOILER EXPLOSION.

NAGANO, August 18th.

The boiler of an engine in the silk-reeling factory owned by Mr. Rokugawa at Suwa exploded to-day, killing a man instantly and injuring two others.

ILLNESS OF COUNT OKI.

TOKYO, August 18th.

Count Oki is lying dangerously ill. Their Majesties the Emperor and Empress have made the usual presents in token of sympathy.

SUSPECTED CASE OF PLAGUE.

TOKYO, August 18th.

One of the steerage passengers of the Sagami Maru, which arrived at Nagasaki from Formosa, having shown symptoms of plague, the steamer has been ordered into quarantine.

THE POLICE AND THE PRESS.

AMORI, August 18th.

The Ton Nippo (a journal published in this town) has refused to insert in large type a report relating to the police, has been prosecuted and sentenced to pay a fine of ¥5.

CURIOS IN AMERICA.

TOKYO, August 18th.

News has reached Tokyo that the sale in America of Japanese curios continues to fall off, and it is feared the trade will soon be practically at an end. The bad sales are chiefly due to high prices despite old designs and inferior quality.

WEATHER REPORT.

The Observatory report says:—

On the 29th at 11.50 a.m. The barometer has fallen considerably in the extreme North, risen on the China coast, except in the South. The depression is moving to the N.E. in the Sea of Japan. Pressure is high over the S.E. coast of China and in the S. part of the China Sea. Forecast:—Moderate or fresh E. winds; squally, showery.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

WE understand that H.M.S. Victorious will probably be sent home shortly.

The Wesleyan conference has rejected a resolution which declared that no Christian ought to manufacture or sell intoxicants.

The returns of the number of visitors to the City Hall Museum for the week ended 27th August, are:—Europeans 174, Chinese 1,474, total 1,645.

The Legislative Council of Southern Rhodesia proposes to tax products from Cape Colony imported into the country. Mr. Cecil Rhodes, however, strongly deprecates the proposal.

The Hon. Treasurer of the Alice Memorial and Nethercole Hospitals begs to acknowledge with thanks the following donations to the funds of the Hospitals:—

Chung Shun Koo $10.

A BRITISH reconnoitring party from the Nile has ascertained that the Khalifa is in desperate straits. His followers have dwindled down to an insignificant few, and he is short both of food and ammunition.

We are informed that the Hongkong and Whampoa Dock Co. have orders for two more "double enders" for the Star Ferry Co. to be employed on the Kowloon run. It is expected that they will be put on the stocks next week and the work pushed on as quickly as possible.

The government difficulty concerning the upper deck is also under consideration and no doubt will shortly be settled; the Company being allowed the full advantage of the upper deck while the safety of the public will be ensured.

The Principal of the University of Vienna, Professor Wiesner, having signed the International Address of learned men appealing to the Emperor of Russia on behalf of Finland, has been severely reprimanded by the Minister of Education, Count Hylandt-Riedel, for so doing. He was informed in somewhat sharp terms that, as an official personage in Austria, it was highly improper for him to intervene in the political affairs of friendly Powers. The reprimand has naturally caused much comment here.

This morning at the Harbour Masters Office, four Chinamen employed as subon watermen on the P. & O. S. S. Bombay were charged with desertion. It appears that the Bombay is going home this morn'g, the boys had signed an agreement for a certain length of time and it was to get out of this contract that they deserted. No. 1 boy was sentenced to a month's imprisonment with hard labour, the other three being awarded ten days apiece.

It is hard to say how much punishment imprisonment is to the average Chinese coolie; these four evidently did not think much of it, as they went away laughing and chatting quite content to have the agreement annulled so easily. One of the boys had already served four months at Victoria Goal for stealing when employed on a German ship, but still, when he again comes out of prison he will be able to get another situation without his employer having the slightest suspicion of a stain on his character.

"My Man Sandy" by J. B. Salmon, published by Messrs. Sands and Co., is a little book of sketches of Lowland Scottish life as good of their kind as any ever done. Their kind is that which can never be quite popular among Southern readers, for the sufficient reason that they are entirely composed in dialect. They do not seek to compete with the popular sketches of "Auld Licht Idylls" or "The Sickie Minister" or "The Bonnie Brier Bush," in which dialect is used, merely in dialogue. They are rather to be compared with those of "Tammam Bodkin," which have been popular with Scottish readers for more than a generation. "My Man Sandy" is in some regards much better than "Tammam Bodkin." There is more variety and more action, and a more noble sense of farce. Farce, indeed, is the prevailing note, rather than quiet humour, and of that sort "Sandy and the Dinner Bell" and "Sandy Makes a Speech" are especially amusing. But the whole book, which is adorned with an excellently drawn frontispiece by Mr. James Greig, deserves the attention of all who can tackle the craggy dialect of Angus.

The June member of the Mercantile Marine Service Association Reporter contains lengthy notice of the death of Mr. J. J. Grylls, who since 1872 has filled the position of Secretary of the Liverpool Mercantile Marine Service Association with unimpaired credit to himself and great advantage to the Service. Writing in the Reporter, Mr. Henry F. Watts says:—Mr. Grylls' work was unique, and his place will never be refilled. But he has founded a dynasty, and in the person of his son (Mr. C. P. Grylls), who has been his father's assistant for 10 years, and has now succeeded him, we have every prospect of a continuity of good government and the conservation of our best traditions. Some may ask: "What monument shall be erected to Grylls?" and one who knew him well will reply: "No image of bronze or marble is required; in the words of a well-known epitaph: 'Si monumentum queris—circumspice.'" If you want a monument look round. Yes, look at the gratitude of England's most important profession look at those 70 or 80 men in the Old-Salters'

PHILIPPINE NEWS.

(From Manila Papers.)

ESCAMILLA NOT ARRESTED.

MANILA, August 21st.—We find that, says the Manila Times, the information given to us about Antonio Escamilla being again arrested, was erroneous. He has not been arrested, nor is there any suspicion of any kind against him. We regret that we were misled and hasten to correct the error.

A COURT MARTIAL.

The case of the three soldiers, belonging to Co. B, of the 16th Infantry, which is now being tried by a board of officers comprising a general court martial at Police Headquarters is exciting general interest.

The prisoners consist of one corporal and two privates, and they are all charged with having broken into the houses of Filipinos and robbed and outraged the inmates. The charge is most serious and in army law we understand the punishment of the offense charged is death. For nearly three weeks the case has been on the docket, and from present prospects it will continue so for three weeks more. A new board of officers has been appointed to try the case, as the previous board changed so many members of the former board, that it was reduced below the number required by law.

TELEGRAPHIC COMMUNICATION.

The Americans now have wire communication with the provincial towns of Taguig, Lolo, Calamba and Los Baños. Lieut. Cunningham of Co. C, of the Signal Corps, returned to Manila Saturday night from the Laguna country, coming down the Pasig in a boat, belonging to the Cable-ship Linker. Lieut. Cunningham and his five men mended the cable between Lolo and Taguig which was cut some time ago by the insurgents. It was only necessary to drag for the cable, locate the break and mend it. It was apparent that the cable had been cut by whom, if not the insurgents or the white coated "anigos"? Later Lieut. Cunningham opened wire connection between Los Baños and Calamba.

THE ALLEGED DEATH OF DEL PILAR.

Reports of the death of Gen. Gregorio del Pilar during the battle of Balingasay Thursday, as reported in the Times of that date, have been confirmed. Saturday night a scouting party from the 3rd Infantry advanced well into the enemy's country from Balingasay. While reconnoitering in the vicinity of the battlefield of Thursday a riderless horse was discovered wandering aimlessly about in the brush. The animal was saddled and bridled. There was blood upon the pistol holster and saddle bag. The latter contained none other than the private papers of General Gregorio del Pilar. During Thursday's battle an insurgent officer, conspicuous for his daring and supposed to be General Gregorio del Pilar, was seen to fall from his horse as if shot dead. As far as can be ascertained the horse found by the scouting party answered to the description of the one ridden by the officer in Thursday's battle.

BATTLE AT ANGELES.

August 22nd.—It is rumored that a fierce battle raged at Angeles yesterday afternoon. The insurgents in strong force began the attack. The outcome cannot be ascertained at present. The story is given general credence by soldiers who left Angeles yesterday. It is said Col. Bell is wounded.

AT TARLAC.

August 23rd.—From latest reports received from the enemy's lines, it would appear that the rebels are gathering in force at Tarlac, while another large body appears to be gathering at Candaba, near the 22nd Infantry outposts. These are the statements made by some of the prisoners now in San Fernando. These same prisoners are also authority for the statement that the insurgents have no more coal to run their trains with, and so nearly all their rolling stock is being dumped into the rivers, and the roadbed destroyed, before it is captured by the advancing Americans.

All is quiet along the north firing line, as there has been no advance made since Saturday last, but the American scouts manage to keep a few of the faithful of the enemy awake when on outpost duties, and the rebels manage to keep the Americans company when they are on guard, although both parties talk at long range.

ELEVEN MEN DROWNED IN THE SAN MATEO RIVER.

To-day we (Manila Times) are for the first time able to give definite information of the sad drowning which occurred at the Santolan Pumping Station last Monday morning. It did not occur at the deposito as previously stated but near the Santolan Water Works pumping station on the San Mateo river.

On Monday morning at 6 o'clock a detachment of 22 men of the 24th Infantry (colored) with their lieutenant, attempted to cross the San Mateo river, recently swollen by heavy rains, from the water-works side of the river, near Camp Alva, over to the Santolan side, on a raft constructed from two bancas. At this point of the river is a ferry, and the raft above mentioned is pulled back and forth by means of a rope.

On Monday morning, after the 22 men with their lieutenant were aboard and were pulling themselves over by means of the rope stretched across the river, and the strong current immediately capsize the raft, precipitating the entire body of soldiers into the water. The lieutenant and twelve of the men saved themselves by hanging on to the raft and pulling themselves ashore by means of the broken rope. The other ten men immediately sank and were carried down stream by the heavy under current, they being almost helpless, being encumbered with their accoutrements and 200 rounds of ammunition.

As far as we are able to learn none of the bodies have as yet been recovered. During the struggle of the unfortunate men in the water, a white soldier who happened to pass along the river front, and whose name and regiment we are unable to ascertain, jumped into the river and attempted to rescue the drowning men. However, the current was too strong for him, and he also succumbed to the power of the water, and thus died the death of a hero.

At the point where the accident occurred the river is exceedingly dangerous and treacherous when swollen by rains and baffles the skill of even expert swimmers. Only a short time ago two native fishermen who were expert swimmers and divers were caught by an under-current and drowned.

This morning the River Pasig gave up five dead bodies, one white soldier who has a badly bruised forehead, and four colored soldiers, who were drowned at Santolan Monday. The bodies were nearly double their original size and floated on the surface of the water, being filled with gas.

THE "ROHILLA" IN TROUBLE.

When the P. & O. steamer Rohilla was making her way towards the Habots, on her arrival in Yokohama harbour on the 14th inst., says the Japan Gazette, she stuck on the mud, owing, it is said, to the inefficiency of the harbour dredging. Afterwards, when she shifted with the rising tide, the chain of one of the mooring buoys got underneath her propeller. Divers were sent down to make things clear, and being successful in their efforts the steamer got alongside the Habots soon after midday on the 15th, apparently unscathed.

THE "CARMARTHENSIRE" AGROUND.

During the blow last night, says the Japan Herald of 16th inst., the S.S. Carmarthenshire went aground on the spit inside the break water owing to the breaking of the catch in her mooring chain under the strain, which allowed the chain to run out to its extreme length. She is now discharging Hongkong cargo and is expected to get off at any time.

THE YOKOHAMA FIRE.

ITS PROBABLE ORIGIN.

There are several stories afloat as to the origin of the great fire on Saturday night, says the Japan Advertiser. One of these is to the effect that a quarrel occurred between the keeper of the Shosetskan bath-house and his wife, in the course of which the former took up a lighted kerosene lamp and threw it at his wife. Another account, more generally credited, is to the effect that a card party which included some of the bath-house employees, was playing in a shed outside the bath-house when a lamp was accidentally overturned. The bath-house employees were examined yesterday at the Kotobukicho police station. On Sunday afternoon a number of the sufferers by the fire, armed with clubs and poles, surrounded the bath-house, broke down the fence which was being erected around it, and dragged out the proprietor, Hirakawa Otokichi, and beat him so severely that he is not expected to live, his wife also being more or less injured.

FATAL FIRE IN TOKIO.

A big fire broke out in a house in Tokio, at 3 a.m. on the 18th instant. A violent south wind was blowing at the time. About one hundred buildings were destroyed, the fire lasting almost two hours. The father of Yoshimoto Takejiro, seventy-four years old, lost his life in the fire.

THE CHINESE COMMERCIAL MISSION.

The Japan Foreign Trade Society entertained Messrs. Liu and Ching, the Chinese commissioners now in Tokyo, at a banquet on the 16th inst. Mr. Ikeda spoke on the object of the gathering, and Mr. Liu responded, his speech being translated by Mr. Otani, Japanese Consul at Shanghai. —Kobe Chronicle.

Kobe's POPULATION.

The Yoshin Nippo states that the population of Kobe has been increasing at the rate of over 5,000 yearly, and the amount of the income tax continues to increase in proportion. The Income Tax Committee expects to conclude its investigations next week. The matters now under investigation are the salaries and allowances, residential ground-rents and profits of business.

A GREAT NAVAL REVIEW.

TOKYO, August 17th.—About April next naval manœuvres will be held on the largest scale yet attempted in Japan, all the ships, including the battleships Yamato and Shikishima, numbering some 160 of all descriptions will participate in it. His Majesty the Emperor will assume the command and the manœuvres will be carried out in the waters of the Pacific. The necessary expenses will be asked for when the Diet meets next session, and they will be extended over two fiscal years. The magnitude of the undertaking is such that preparations are already being pushed forward. It is expected that all the foreign squadrons in Far Eastern waters will assemble to witness the manœuvres. —Kobe Chronicle.

RUSSIA'S EX-MINISTER TO COREA SPEAKS OUT.

Rumours are being spread in St. Petersburg, says the Sent Independent, that a probable serious crisis in Corea is considered inevitable. M. Pavloff has very often expressed his opinion that the withdrawal of the Russian troops from Corea as well as the recalling of the Russian Financial Councillor Alexieff was a great mistake. It is sought to attribute the better state of finances to his brief management. The truth, of course, is he merely carried out what Mr. McLeay Brown had been working at for two years. The predominance of the Japanese element, it is also stated, has induced M. Pavloff to precipitate events in Corea, and to urge the intervention of Russia, lest it might be too late. An official document sums up the situation as follows:—"Complete anarchy is approaching in Corea. A real Government no longer exists, and if the various States still maintain their representatives at Seoul and take for a reality the Korean Government which has become a myth, it is only owing to their desire to defer as long as possible the inevitable end."

ONLY A RUMOUR.

With reference to the London telegram of 8th inst., stating that the Russian Minister to Peking had lodged an objection with the Chinese Government against the proposed alliance between Japan and China, the Foreign Office instructed the Japanese Minister to Peking to investigate the matter. The Minister has now replied that it is nothing but a rumour. —Kobe Herald.

A BOY BAYONETTED.

A rather extraordinary story comes from Sendai, says the Japan Gazette. A soldier belonging to the Fourth Regiment of Infantry was on duty as a sentry on the evening of the 13th inst. in front of the gate of his barracks. While he was thus employed a 12-year old boy named Goto Shichinosuke, who had been sent by his father to buy rice, passed the soldier. As the boy came down whistling the soldier bayoneted him in the side without giving the slightest previous warning. The lad died on the spot from the wound. Why the man should adopt so reckless a step towards the youth is a mystery. Some believe that the boy was mistaken for a dog while others assert that possibly the soldier meant to scare him and only killed him by accident. Our native contemporaries describe the affair as most disgraceful, which is rather mild language to use for such an action. But there must be another side to the story.

THE RECENT TYPHOON.

POSITION OF THE "AROVIL."

The Argyl is still aground where she went ashore near the boat-house during Tuesday's typhoon, says the Kobe Chronicle of 18th inst. This morning about three hundred coolies are at work removing the sand on the shore side of the steamer, which lies broadside on to the shore, with scarcely a list. A dredger will arrive to-morrow from Osaka and dredge the sand on the seaward side. It is confidently expected that the steamer will get off on Sunday.

THE TRANSVAAL.

SIR ALFRED MILNER'S DESPATCH.

A PIECE OF PLAIN ENGLISH.

LONDON, July 29th.—The despatch of Sir Alfred Milner on the situation in the Transvaal to the British Government has been marked by press comment as the most important declaration on the subject yet made. After giving a full description of the state of affairs Sir Alfred Milner writes:—"The right of Great Britain to intervene to secure fair treatment of the Uitlanders is fully equal to her supreme interest in securing it. The majority of them are her subjects, whom she is bound to protect. But the enormous number of British subjects, the endless series of their grievances, and the nature of those grievances, which are not less serious because they are not individually sensational, makes protection by the ordinary diplomatic means impossible. We are, as you know, for ever remonstrating about this, and the other injury to British subjects. Only in rare cases, and only when we are very emphatic, do we obtain any redress. The sore between us and the Transvaal Republic is thus inevitably kept up, while the result in the way of protection to our subjects is lamentably small. For these reasons it has been, as you know, my constant endeavor to reduce the number of our complaints. I may sometimes have obtained when I ought to have 'protected' from my great dislike to ineffectual nagging. But I feel that the attempt to remedy the hundred-and-one wrongs springing from a hopeless system by taking up isolated cases is perfectly vain. I may easily lead to war, but will never lead to real improvement. The true remedy is to strike at the root of all these injuries—the political impotence of the injured. What diplomatic protests will never accomplish, a fair measure of Uitlander representation would gradually but surely bring about. It seems a paradox, but it is true, that the only effective way of protecting our subjects is to help them to cease to be our subjects. The admission of Uitlanders to a fair share of political power would, no doubt, give stability to the Republic. But it would, at the same time, remove most of our causes of difference with it, and thereby remove the long run end, which is to remove the cause of our hostility to Great Britain which at present dominates its internal and external policy. The case for intervention is overwhelming. The only attempted answer is that things will right themselves if left alone. But, in fact, the policy of leaving things alone has been tried for years, and it has led to their going from bad to worse. It is not true that this is owing to the mid. They were going from bad to worse before the mid, and the Transvaal was on the verge of revolution. The effect of the raid has been to give the policy of leaving things alone a new lease of life, and with all the consequences."

"The spectacle of thousands of British subjects kept permanently in the position of helots, constantly chafing under unredressed grievances, and calling vainly to her Majesty's Government for redress, does steadily undermine the influence and reputation of Great Britain and the respect for the British Government within the Queen's dominions. A certain section of the Press, not in the Transvaal only, preaches openly and constantly the doctrine of a Republic embracing all South Africa, and supports it by numerous references to the armaments of the Transvaal, its alliance with the Orange Free State, and the active sympathy which in case of war, it would receive from a section of her Majesty's subjects. I regret to say that this doctrine, supported as it is by a ceaseless stream of malignant lies about the intentions of the British Government, is producing a great effect upon a large number of our Dutch fellow-colonists. Language is frequently used which seems to imply that the Dutch have some superior right even in this colony to their fellow-citizens of British birth. Thousands of men peaceably disposed, and if left alone, perfectly satisfied with their position as British subjects, are being driven into dissatisfaction, and there is a corresponding exasperation on the side of the British."

"I can see nothing which will put a stop to this mischievous propaganda but some striking proof of the intention of her Majesty's Government not to be ousted from its position in South Africa. And the best proof alike of its power and its justice would be to obtain for the Uitlanders in the Transvaal a fair share in the government of the country, which would give everything to their exertions. It could be made perfectly clear that our action was not directed against the existence of the Republic. We should only be demanding the establishment of rights which now exist in the Orange Free State, and which existed in the Transvaal itself at the time of, and long after, the withdrawal of British sovereignty. It would be no selfish demand, as other Uitlanders besides those of British birth would benefit by it. It is asking for nothing from others which we cannot give ourselves. And it would certainly go to the root of the political unrest in South Africa, and though temporarily it might aggravate, it would ultimately extinguish the race feud which is the great cause of the trouble."

The tone of the South African press, as shown by many news which have appeared, indicated (with some regret) the probability of a compromise being arrived at. Fears were expressed that when the crisis was over the Transvaal would back out of its arrangements.

THE DEBATES.

LONDON, July 29th.—The situation in the Transvaal was discussed in both Houses of Parliament last night. In the House of Commons, Sir H. Campbell-Bannerman, leader of the Opposition, admitted that the Transvaal was a constant source of danger to the peace of South Africa, but denied that a case for armed intervention had been made out. The Jameson raid justified the suspicion entertained by the Boers, and Great Britain must rely upon moral suasion, and the aid of enlightened Dutchmen at the Cape for a settlement of the difficulty.

Mr. Chamberlain, Secretary of State for the Colonies, said that Great Britain was entitled to interfere on four grounds, viz. the right of every Power to protect its subjects if they were oppressed; the right of international law, the conventions entered into between Great Britain and the Transvaal had been broken both in and out of spirit; the promises on which the conventions had been granted had been falsified; he did not desire to haggle about details, but he was bound to see the thing through. He would submit the new franchise law to legal experts in South Africa for them to ascertain whether it secured to the Uitlanders adequate representation. He thankfully recognised that the colony was willing to give the mother country active support. But of difficulty. He declined to pledge the Government in respect to what action it might ultimately take. He considered that the Colonial Office had displayed excessive patience and moderation in dealing with President Kruger. No one desired to annex the Transvaal or to lessen its independence. He was still hopeful that a satisfactory settlement would be arrived at because President Kruger seemed aware that the Government and the country were in earnest.

Mr. Chamberlain's statement was received with cheers. Mr. F. Sigismund Mendel, M.P. for Plymouth, and Mr. Ellis Griffith, M.P. for Anglesey, both Liberals, supported Mr. Chamberlain's views.

No division was called for. Speaking in the House of Lords, the Earl of Selborne, the Parliamentary Secretary for the Colonial Office, said that the demands by Sir Alfred Milner, High Commissioner for Cape Colony, at the Bloemfontein Conference, were the minimum which would be accepted. The Premier adopted Lord Selborne's definition of Sir Alfred Milner's minimum, and said that President Kruger had systematically followed a policy which had for its object encouragement of racial feeling, and the reduction of the English residents of the republic to the condition of a conquered race. "We have," he continued, "put our hands to the plough, and will not turn back. The convention is not immovable, but, if the landmarks are disturbed, something will have to be substituted for them which will not allow of the revival of the old formidable difficulties." —Sydney Telegraph.

SHIPPING NEWS.

Ship Building Prospects.

Although the urgent demand for new tonnage which has been a familiar feature in shipbuilding centres for many months past, has eased down considerably, and a scarcity of orders for new boats is noticeable in some quarters, prices are being well maintained on the whole. The prospect of a reduction in the cost of building cargo steamers, which is greatly desired by many shipowners, seems still far distant. An enormous amount of work is being executed and much more that is booked, has still to be done, irrespective of the large number of orders temporarily held back, owing to the present excessive cost of building. What ground exists for the expectation of some owners that lower prices may soon be looked for is not at all clear. All the ordinary indications point to a continuance of high prices for many months to come, and to an increase rather than a decrease in the present figures. Materials are higher than ever, and there are no signs of cheapening influences appearing, whilst the general activity in almost every department of the iron and steel trades certainly tends to stiffen prices for shipyard material. Labour is more expensive and less efficient, for the "Columbian" has become very popular in some yards, and the unions also find that by carefully restricting the number of apprentices the demand, in certain departments, is overtaking the supply of workmen, to the temporary benefit of the limited squad. The extra bill for labour in preparing material and in constructing vessels has become a serious item for calculation in recent times. Foreign shipowners again are buying new boats built here, over the heads of some hesitating Englishmen, and are still paying such high prices for second-hand tonnage as inevitably enhances shipping values all round. On the slightest sign of a decline setting in, there are so many orders held in reserve which will then be placed, that any such fall is likely to be of a transient character, unless some unforeseen contingency arises to upset all ordinary calculations.

Voyage in a "Dug Out."

Capt. Furnin Mouldin, of San Francisco, announces that he will go to the Paris Exhibition next year, in a dug-out. "I will build," he says, "a schooner from one of the largest trees in Humboldt County. The hull shall be one solid piece—simply the trunk of the tree hollowed out and hewn into shape. I will take a tree from 22 to 24 ft. in diameter for my boat. She will be 48 ft. long, 15 ft. beam, and 2 ft. deep, and will be right as a schooner. I will take my boat to Humboldt County, where the big trees are, and I figure that it will take me from two to three months to make it. I shall sail from here, around Cape Horn or through the Straits of Magellan across the Atlantic, and up the Seine to Paris. I want to be ready to start in time to reach Cape Horn about the last of December of this year, so that I shall arrive in Paris by May of 1900. I shall sail 16,000 miles in the trunk of a tree. I sincerely hope he will not find himself "up a tree" before the voyage is over.

Customs Duty.

The Customs authorities have protested in regard to the action of the United States officials in enforcing the payment of duty on some extra coal taken by the Company's s.s. Catalonia from Liverpool to Boston to stiffen her, and transferred at Boston to other steamers of the Company, but the protests have all been overruled and the decision of the Collector affirmed in each case. The Customs Company maintained that the extra coal put on board for stiffening was not in the nature of an ordinary importation chargeable with the import duty of 67 cents per ton; also that the Act of Congress permits the transfer of coal from one ship to another of the same Company in the same trade. The payment of duty would attach, as a matter of course, to landed goods, but the Boston authorities insisted that the putting of the coal into barges for transference to other steamers of the Company amounted to unloading and landing, rendering the coal subject to taxation. But the sea stores or other "legitimate equipment" of vessels are exempt from duty in the States, and the Company also relied on this point. The authorities, however, declined to admit that coal-balls were "sea stores," and in any event considered such stores to be "excessive" in the sense of the regulations, subjecting the excess coal to an estimated amount of duty within the discretion of the Customs officials. From various points of view this ruling is highly satisfactory, and the general opinion on this side will undoubtedly be that the transfer of ballast coal at Boston from the Catalonia to other Company boats was not a "landing" of the coal in the "importation" sense, and that therefore the duty should not have been imposed on it.

New Far Eastern Line.

According to information from St. Petersburg, the promoters of the new East Asiatic Line of steamers hope and intend to monopolize the whole of the Russian freight to the Far East. This new undertaking, however, is only an offshoot or extension of the East Asiatic Steamship Company formed a few years ago at Copenhagen with the object of increasing the commercial relations of Denmark with Siam, China, and Japan. A fair amount of success has been achieved by this Company, and great pains have been taken by its managers to make it a profitable concern. It is now in the process of being reorganized, and the result of their endeavours is the formation of a new Russo-Danish East Asiatic Steamship Company with Russian and Danish capital, and as a branch of the existing Copenhagen Company, with its head-quarters at Rigá. The management of the new undertaking is divided between the Danish Consul at Rigá (Hornbald) and the Consul at St. Petersburg (Hoffing), and operations are to commence as soon as possible. To this end the Copenhagen Company has made over to the Russian branch two large cargo-boats now in course of completion at Flensburg and Copenhagen. The Russian Government, as its wont is, has not only been prompt to sanction this enterprise, which will live up to the trade of the Baltic ports and provide regular and direct means of transport to Eastern Siberia, but has also granted considerable privileges to it. One of the most important favours granted is the promise of reimbursing the Company out of the State coffers the heavy dues payable by the vessels for the passage through the Suez Canal. Under these circumstances it will be strange indeed should the venture not meet with success. The share capital is 5,000,000 kroner to start with, but the doubling of the amount is already in contemplation, for the purpose of acquiring a number of new boats of large dimensions.

Merchant Service Guild.

At the invitation of the Board of Trade the Merchant Service Guild have expressed the following opinions on the suggestion of the Committee for the revision of the medical scales of merchant and passenger vessels that

"first aid" should be in the Board of Trade Examination for Master—
The Merchant Service Guild,
June 30th, 1899.

The Assistant Secretary,
(Marine Department), Board of Trade.
Sir—Your letter of 7th inst., together with the enclosed extract from the report of the Medical Committee, recommending that "masters" presenting themselves for examination for masters' certificates should be required to produce evidence that they have passed through a course of instruction in the subject of "first aid to the wounded," have been carefully considered by the Guild.
In reply, I am directed to state that they would strongly deprecate, and object to, a further compulsory burden being placed upon those officers who now hold certificates. The conditions under which they exist, and the wretched remuneration they receive for their important and responsible services to their employers and to the State, renders it impossible for them to devote more time and money to the preparation for the higher examinations.
The Guild, however, fully realise the value of a knowledge of this subject on board ship, and would suggest, indeed, respectfully urge, the Board of Trade to, at an early time, require that all candidates for a first examination should hold a First Aid Certificate either from the St. John's Ambulance Society, or such other authority as might be approved by the Board. At this stage of their professional life, there would be no difficulty, and there is no doubt that, if such a step were taken, all those officers who had previously passed, would, whenever their circumstances permitted, voluntarily obtain such certificates.
I am, Sir, your obedient servant,
J. C. MOORE, Secretary.

An Unusual Ceremony.

The Marine Journal (New York) has the following: "An unusual ceremony at a launch was that which attended the launching of the four-masted schooner Anna Murray, at Camden, Me., on 24th June. It was no less than the blessing of the vessel and her baptism with holy water by Bishop Healy, of Portland, in the same form in which were consecrated the caravels of Columbus. Altar boys, incense, and sacred oils, with the full ritual and prayers, were used. The vessel is 21 ft. long, of 3,000 tons, and will be put in the West India trade out of New York.
According to returns just published by Lloyd's Register, 103 steamers, of 141,596 tons gross, and 311 sailing-ships, of 121,342 tons register, were totally lost, condemned etc., during the quarter ending 31st December, or 1,016 of 444 vessels, of 205,938 tons. The percentage for the United Kingdom of tonnage lost to the tonnage owned was 0.69.

Torpedo Boat Destroyers.

A correspondent to Fairplay writes: "The disastrous explosion on board the Bullfinch will naturally direct attention to the torpedo-boat destroyer type of war-vessel, and the wisdom, or unwisdom, of the policy of sacrificing everything to speed to the imminent danger of everyone employed in it. The Bullfinch was a fast vessel, no better proof of the gimcrack nature of these vessels can be found than the fact that very few of them have passed through their trials without having undergone a series of breakdowns more or less serious in their character, whilst quite a number of boats have been in the water for several years without having completed their trials yet. Last week the three destroyers Fervent, Officer, and Express were at Greenock undergoing trial-trials, the first-named having been launched between four and five years, whilst these are several months up the river dating back about as long as the Fervent, without any apparent immediate prospect of their bullfinches getting them off their hands. A return of all the torpedo-boat destroyers launched during the past five years and not yet taken over by the Admiralty, with the number of trials and breakdowns which each has undergone, would be an eye-opener, and might lead to a stop being put to the enormous waste of money which is taking place in connection with the building of a class of vessels which are so hard to get passed through their trials, and which may be expected to break down whenever they are subjected to the strain of active service. A good, strongly-built and engine serviceable boat, steaming 35 knots, would be worth a dozen 30 or 33-knotters which could not be trusted to run for more than an hour without sending something flying in the engine-room, with possibly a repetition of the disastrous results in the Bullfinch case. Apparently the higher rates of speed can only be obtained through the sacrifice of the strength and weight of the machine employed in the construction of the hulls and the machinery, hence the application of the contemptuous term of 'tin pans' to the catcher flotilla."

HOW TO PROVIDE FOR THE FAMILY.

INCOME $5,000; EXPENDITURE $5,000; PROVISION 1/12.
INCOME $5,000; EXPENDITURE $1,500; PROVISION $3,000 YEARLY.

FOR an annual premium of $1,550 this Society will undertake to pay to the family
$3,000 PER ANNUM.
If he does not require a refund in money, the necessity for family protection being no longer existent, the assured may have a certain annuity for his own later years, of $714 guaranteed and $500 additional, for twenty-five years certain; the latter sum varying only as the bonus payable in 1919 will vary from the bonus payable in 1899.
When protection such as this, proportionable to every man's means, is within reach, let not a DAY BE WASTED, but apply for special example to the EQUITABLE LIFE ASSURANCE SOCIETY OF THE UNITED STATES.

THE NEW FRENCH REMEDY.

THERAPION.
This successful and highly popular remedy, as employed in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Volpelt, and others, combines all the desiderata to be sought in a medicine of the kind, and surpasses everything hitherto employed.

THERAPION No. 1, in a few days only, removes all discharges from the urinary organs, effectually superseding injections, the use of which does irreparable harm by laying the foundation of structure and other serious diseases. In dysentery, piles, irritation of the lower bowel, cough, bronchitis, asthma, and some of the more trying complaints of this kind, it will be found astonishingly efficacious, affording prompt relief where other well-tried remedies have been powerless.

THERAPION No. 2, for impurity of the blood, scurvy, pimples, spots, blotches, pains and swellings of the joints, secondary symptoms, disease of the bones, sore throat, and all diseases for which it has been too much a fashion to employ mercury, sarsaparilla, &c.; to the destruction of the sufferer's teeth and ruin of health. This preparation purifies the whole system, thins the blood, and thoroughly eliminates every poisonous matter from the body.

THERAPION No. 3, for nervous exhaustion, waste of vitality, and all the distressing consequences arising from early error, excess, residence in hot, unhealthy climates, &c. It possesses surprising power in restoring strength and vigour to the debilitated.

THERAPION may be procured at 2/6 and 4/6 per package, of the principal Chemists and Merchants throughout the world. In ordering, the purchaser should state which of the three numbers he requires, and observe that the word THERAPION appears on the Government Stamp (in white letters on a red ground) affixed to every genuine package, by order of Her Majesty's Home Commissioners, and without which it is a forgery.
